NEW QUESTION: 1
You've configured your cluster with HDFS Federation. One NameNode manages the /data namesapace and another Name/Node manages the /reports namespace. How do you configure a client machine to access both the /data and the /reports directories on the cluster?
A. Configure the client to mount the /data namespace. As long as a single namespace is mounted and the client participates in the cluster, HDFS grants access to all files in the cluster to that client.

B. You don't need to configure any parameters on the client machine. Access is controlled by the NameNodes managing the namespace.
C. You cannot configure a client to access both directories in the current implementation of HDFS Federation.
D. Configure the client to mount both namespaces by specifying the appropriate properties in the core-site.xml
Answer: C
Explanation:
HDFS Federation
In order to scale the name service horizontally, federation uses multiple independent namenodes/namespaces. The namenodes are federated, that is, the namenodes are independent and don't require coordination with each other. The datanodes are used as common storage for blocks by all the namenodes. Each datanode registers with all the namenodes in the cluster. Datanodes send periodic heartbeats and block reports and handles commands from the namenodes.
Note:HDFS Federation improves the existing HDFS architecture through a clear separation of namespace and storage, enabling generic block storage layer. It enables support for multiple namespaces in the cluster to improve scalability and isolation. Federation also opens up the architecture, expanding the applicability of HDFS cluster to new implementations and use cases.
