NEW QUESTION: 1
How does fault tolerance provide continuous availability?
A. By using a feature called Changed Block Tracking (CBT), which backs up content.
B. By creating and maintaining a secondary virtual machine that is identical to primary machine.
C. By using the host as the medium to provide asynchronous replication of datastores.
D. By providing the availability required by most applications running in virtual machines, independent of the operating system and application running in it.
Answer: B
Explanation:
VMware Fault Tolerance provides continuous availability for virtual machines by creating and maintaining a Secondary VM that is identical to, and continuously available to replace, the Primary VM in the event of a failover situation.

NEW QUESTION: 2
Refer to the exhibit. What is the meaning of the term dynamic as displayed in the output of the show frame-relay map command shown?

A. The mapping between DLCI 100 and the end station IP address 172.16.3.1 was learned through inverse ARP.
B. The DLCl100 will be dynamically changed as required to adapt to changes in the Frame Relay cloud.
C. The Serial0/0 interface is passing traffic.
D. The DLCI100 was dynamically allocated by the router.
E. The Serial0/0 interface acquired the IP address of 172.16.3.1 from a DHCP server.
Answer: A
Explanation:
Inverse Address Resolution Protocol (Inverse ARP) was developed to provide a mechanism for dynamic DLCI to Layer 3 address maps. Inverse ARP works much the same way Address Resolution Protocol (ARP) works on a LAN. However, with ARP, the device knows the Layer 3 IP address and needs to know the remote data link MAC address. With Inverse ARP, the router knows the Layer
2 address which is the DLCI, but needs to know the remote Layer
3 IP address. When using dynamic address mapping, Inverse ARP requests a next-hop protocol address for each active PVC. Once the requesting router receives an Inverse ARP response, it updates its DLCI-to-Layer 3 address mapping table. Dynamic address mapping is enabled by default for all protocols enabled on a physical interface. If the Frame Relay environment supports LMI autosensing and Inverse ARP, dynamic address mapping takes place automatically. Therefore, no static address mapping is required.

NEW QUESTION: 3
