NEW QUESTION: 1

In which of the following scenarios is PKI LEAST hardened?

- A. All public keys are accessed by an unauthorized user.
- B. The CRL is posted to a publicly accessible location.
- C. The recorded time offsets are developed with symmetric keys.
- D. A malicious CA certificate is loaded on all the clients.

Answer: D

Explanation:

A rogue Certification Authority (CA) certificate allows malicious users to impersonate any Web site on the Internet, including banking and e-commerce sites secured using the HTTPS protocol. A rogue CA certificate would be seen as trusted by Web browsers, and it is harmful because it can appear to be signed by one of the root CAs that browsers trust by default. A rogue Certification Authority (CA) certificate can be created using a vulnerability in the Internet Public Key Infrastructure (PKI) used to issue digital certificates for secure Web sites.

Incorrect Answers:

A. The CRL should be readily accessible. It should be posted on a publically accessible location.

A CRL is a database of revoked keys and signatures.

B. Incorrect time offsets is much less of a security threat compared to a rogue Certification Authority certificate.

D. Public keys are public and can be accessed by anyone.

NEW QUESTION: 2

A network administrator needs to implement a monitoring tool and be able to send log information to a server and receive log information from other clients. Which of the following should be implemented? (Select TWO).

A. Syslog

B. SNMP

C. System log

D. History log

E. Network sniffer

Answer: A,B

Explanation:

Simple Network Management Protocol (SNMP) is an "Internet-standard protocol for managing devices on IP networks". Devices that typically support SNMP include routers, switches, servers, workstations, printers, modem racks and more. It is used mostly in network management systems to monitor network-attached devices for conditions that warrant administrative attention.

Syslog is a standard for computer message logging. It permits separation of the software that generates messages from the system that stores them and the software that reports and analyzes them.
