WI-FI sniffing is a technique used to capture network traffic over a wireless network. Which of the following is a common method for sniffing traffic on a wireless network?

- A. radar
- B. conventional oven
- C. fire alarm
- D. rogue AP
- E. LED lights

Answer: B,D

Explanation:

Wi-Fi sniffing is a technique used to capture network traffic over a wireless network. It involves intercepting and analyzing data packets transmitted between devices connected to a Wi-Fi network. This can be done using various tools and techniques, such as packet sniffers and network analyzers. The goal is to capture sensitive information, such as passwords, emails, and other data, that is being transmitted over the network. This is often done for security purposes, such as identifying vulnerabilities or detecting unauthorized access. However, it is also a common method for conducting surveillance and data theft. The most common method for sniffing traffic on a wireless network is using a rogue access point (AP). This involves setting up a fake AP that mimics a legitimate one, and then capturing traffic as devices connect to it. Other methods include using a network analyzer to capture traffic on a wireless network, or using a packet sniffer to capture traffic on a wireless network. The most common method for sniffing traffic on a wireless network is using a rogue access point (AP).
